Member's Business Policy:

A member of Women's Business Bridge (WBB) can only represent one business per membership. Meeting introductions and benefits can only be used to promote one business, per member. A second business can be represented for a 25% discount. If membership is paid for more than 1 business, member will receive Member Benefits for both. Only one representative per membership may attend general meeting at no charge. It is at members/company's discretion as to who may represent said company. Once a membership has been purchased, it cannot be refunded or transferred to another company.

Exceptions to transferring membership are as follows:

- If a company has gone out of business, membership may be transferred to member's new business.
- If a company has changed their name, name may be changed.
- Membership is held by the company and it is at said company's discretion as to who attends general meetings. For example – If a company holds a membership and employee who attends leaves said company, company may send another employee in her place.
- If a member pays for membership out of personal funds and company/business does not reimburse them, membership can stay with person who paid and may be transferred to that person's new company – If company/business does reimburse their employee for membership, membership stays or belongs to the company/business that paid.
